One (1) Year without a lost time incident

The Nigeria Projects Organization would like to recognize your contributions towards the achievement of one (1) year without a lost time incident reached on July 10, 2008. This milestone represents 8.5 million hours worked without a lost time injury in NPO.

This is a significant achievement considering the increasing activity levels we are experiencing on projects. We recognize, as I'm sure your company does, that strong safety results leads to better overall work performance and a positive impact on the bottom line. Please accept our congratulations!

The coming year will witness the completion of several ongoing projects and commencement of several new projects. With our partner NNPC, ExxonMobil is planning continued growth in project activities to achieve Nigeria's goals and aspirations. Extending our safety record will require further improvements in equipment maintenance and training. We will continue to build on this mile stone by reinforcing our successful safety practices and actively seeking your leadership commitment to the ExxonMobil Behavior Based Safety initiative.

This year proves that it is possible to work without getting hurt. We encourage you and your entire work-force to recommit to "I Will Not Get Hurt Today".

Best Regards,

R. E. Overfield
